

Cosmo Highlights Strategic AI and GI Innovation Agenda at Digestive Disease Week® 2025

Dublin, Ireland – May 5, 2025: Cosmo is attending this year's Digestive Disease Week® (DDW), held in San Diego, California from May 3-6, where its leadership team is advancing a focused agenda of strategic meetings with key opinion leaders (KOLs), innovators, and potential partners in AI and gastrointestinal (GI) drug development.

DDW is the world's premier gathering in the field, attracting each year over 13,000 gastroenterologists, researchers, and industry leaders from around the globe. Cosmo is leveraging this unique setting to deepen relationships and explore new collaborations that align with its strategy to lead in AI-powered endoscopy and GI therapeutics.

"DDW is the epicentre of innovation in GI, and we are here to make meaningful progress," said Giovanni Di Napoli, CEO of Cosmo. "We're engaging with some of the brightest minds and most visionary partners to drive our AI and drug development efforts forward. The future of GI is being shaped now, and Cosmo is committed to being a catalyst in that transformation."

In parallel, Cosmo has convened its AI Advisory Board at DDW, bringing together world-class experts to guide the company's strategic priorities and fast-track development across its AI platform.

Cosmo's presence at the Digestive Disease Week® underscores its long-term commitment to advancing GI care through a unique integration of technology, science, and execution. The Company continues to invest in partnerships that will unlock new value for physicians and patients across the globe.
